ELIAS B. BROWN and John B. Brown filed a suit of assignment on Tuesday for the benefit of their creditors. Mr. W. C. McChord is named as assignee for both. The liabilities of the two cannot be given accurately.

but it is thought that Elias B. Brown's indebtedness will amount to about $17,000, while John Brown owes between $6,000 and $7,000, and besides is security to a considerable amount for his brother. The failures were in the nature of a surprise to the people here. The assets of the two will amount to about two-thirds of the liabilities. Proposals are being made by the creditors by which it is expected that a compromise or adjustment will be made with the assigned which will be of mutual benefit, which will save the trouble and expense of carrying the affairs through the courts.

WHEELS the Town Trustees are looking about for reform and getting rid of the hog nuisance, they might take a throw at the dog evil like the council at Bardonia has done. We recommend the following as an effective dog button. What's the matter with passing an ordinance something like this?

Be it ordained by the Trustees of the town of Springfield: That there is hereby levied a tax of one dollar on each dog in the city of Springfield. The owner of each dog is required to pay said tax to the City Treasurer on or before the 15th day of April, 1897, and receive from him a tag which shall be attached to a collar or strap around the neck of the dog paid on, and shall, when so attached or suspended from said collar or strap, be evidence that the tax on said dog has been paid. On and after the first day of May, 1897, the City Marshal shall kill dogs in said city not having the tag as above.

MOORESVILLE.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Died, March 10, of fever, Mrs. Jas. Benham, in the 20th year of her age. She was a Miss McGill, of Woodlawn, and had been married less than a year. The family have our sympathy in their bereavement.

Mrs. Titus Plaugher is in a critical condition. She has had the mumps and they have settled in her breast and lungs, and we hope she may recover.

Byron Croake shipped a carload of hogs from Boonville last Saturday.

Died March 15th of typhoid fever, Mr. Levi Conley, in the 23d year of his age. He was an honest and industrious young man and was liked by all who knew him.

Mr. Wallace McKay, of Louisville, came out Saturday and stayed until Monday with Dr. Sheban at Maud.

W. O. E.

A PRISONER'S WORK.

He had passed his first ten years in prison without doing anything, settling himself and fitting himself to the habits of the place.

Then, as there were yet 20 years of prison life before him, he said one fine morning that it was shameful to lead so idle a life, and that he must, even for himself some occupation worthy not of a freeman, since he was a prisoner, but worthy simply of a man.

He devoted a year to reflection, to weighing the different ideas which presented themselves, to seeking a definite plan for his conduct.

"I must," said he, "find something at the same time novel, useful and inspiring. I must invent a task which shall occupy my time, which shall be productive of some good and which shall have the value of a prison."

Another year was employed in this search, and at last success crowned his efforts.

It was a veritable dungeon, that in which the prisoner lived, which the sun entered but for one short half hour daily, and then by a single ray, which was a mere thread of light.

The bed on which the unhappy man stretched his aching limbs was a pile of wet straw.

The very thing," he cried with energy. "Now, I shall defy my jailers and my fate."

First he counted the separate straws that made up his bundle. There were 100 straws in a bundle and 10 minutes he made an experiment to find out how long it would take to dry a single straw.

Three quarters of an hour! It would require for them all, for the 1,000 straws of 100 bundles and 10 minutes, with a half hour of sunbath a day, 1,941 days.

The calculation that the man would not die at least one day out of three, it would require 10 years, 1 month, 1 week and 4 days.

So set to work at once.

Every day that the sun shows the prisoner carried a straw and put it in the sunbath, leaving himself just when the sun was at its zenith. The prisoner kept warm under his clothes the straw which he had been able to dry.

The prisoner kept warm under his clothes the straw which he had been able to dry.

A distinction without a difference amounts to nothing. There is a difference—a real difference—a vast difference between Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and any other cough, cold or lung remedy. This is the fact that is proven by its history, but the greatest difference is to be found in the results coming from its use. Besides cutting the phlegm and easing the cough, or cold at once, it soothes the irritation—loosens the lungs and bronchial tubes. It fortifies the system against colds from the use of which an evil after effects can arise.

Dangers of the Grip.
The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If respiratory organs are weakened, however, the bacteria's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for La Grippe, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dread disease. It will effect a permanent cure in less time than any other treatment. The 25 and 50 cent sizes sold by Hays and Robertson.

The sooner you begin to fight the fire, the more quickly it may be extinguished. The sooner you begin taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for your blood disease, the more will be the cure. In both cases delay is an enemy, if not fatal. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other.

pose. Rage in old men and yellow lead up to a dead which rests a couch in yellow brocade. On a mirror hangs a bit of gold and a Roman chair in white stand convenient to the dressing table.

Miss Tillinghast has not a monopoly in this work among the women of her city, for Miss Virginia Brush and Mrs. Horace Bodine are doing it as well as she. Misses Sheldon and Temple, of Washington, have adopted home decorations as their profession, as have two clever San Francisco, Misses Martin and Inglesbee. They all find it both congenial and profitable.

NEW INVENTIONS.

Portable Drill for Railroad Rails—A portable device which can be manipulated by one man, enables the ends of the rails to be expeditiously drilled at any desired spot after the track has been laid, a convenience which will be appreciated by railroad men.

Scrap Clute and Bandler—Peter Berres, of Pittsburgh, Pa., has invented a device for catching the scraps or trimmings of his as they come from the shears and loading the "scraps" in compact form, thus avoiding litter, economizing space and affording a better estimate of the work done by employees.

Protecting Burning Ends of Cigars—An eccentric German has invented a cigar protector and container, which prevents the extinguishment of a cigar by rain, or enables the smoker to put it in his pocket for future use without setting fire to his clothes. It consists of a cup to protect the end of the cigar, with spring handles which grip the cigar near the upper end.

Adjuster for String Instruments—A recently patented German invention is an instrument which may be applied to a guitar or other string instrument so as to shorten the string more or less in order to tune it in another key. The adjuster will greatly aid learners, as it is only necessary to practice the three easiest notes producing E, A, D, chords, and the player is ready to play all other chords. It consists of a frame partially surrounding the neck of the instrument, and carrying in bearings a roller rolling upon the strings and a lever serving to operate the adjuster.

Step Leader with a Hapd Rail—An improved folding step ladder is provided with a broad top platform to support a workman, and also a flexible hand and guard rail to which may, if he so desires, hold with one hand while at work.

An editor can please part of the people all the time, but when it comes to pleasing all the people all the time he makes a dismal failure of it. It is something that no man has ever succeeded in doing and we gave it up long ago. For that reason, we are not a newspaper which attracts attention as such, but as we would it be wanted on earth at all.—Ex.

Senator Lindsey and the Bankruptcy Bill—Senator Lindsey, of Kentucky, who is recognized as one of the ablest lawyers in the Senate, re-introduced the Torrey Bankrupt Bill on the last day of the session of the Senate, and when asked why he did so, said: "Simply to have copies of the bill to send to inquiring friends of bankruptcy legislation, and to show that notwithstanding the fact the bill was not considered by the Senate at the last session we shall persevere until it is available to the people."

In answer to an inquiry as to the details of the bill, the Senator said: "There are five chapters, which embrace the whole subject, they relate to the courts, the officers, the bankrupts, the creditors and the estates. The sections of the law in these various chapters severally relate to one subject, so that when a provision is made covering a subject it is not again repeated, but is simply referred to. In this way, the entire code of confusion is avoided, which in other bills has been most perplexing. In referring to the scope of
